

Nurture

Parenting and Christian Schooling Journal

Submission Guidelines

Nurture is the flagship publication of Christian Education National (CEN). The target audience is Christian parents and teachers. We are passionate about Christian Education and the journey of parenting. We aim to inspire and encourage our readers with stories which:

- show how our children are growing in their faith and living their learning
- equip and help parents navigate through the journey of parenthood and build stronger relationships with their children
- unpack Christian Education in an easy to understand way
- promote the partnership between home, school and church

All articles published will support the Nurture Statement of Purpose:

- To challenge all parents to a fuller and deeper scriptural understanding of raising and educating their children.
- To bring before all in our communities the compelling claims of Christ-centred education, which supports parents in this task.

Submission Length:

- Around 400 or 800 words

Content:

- Written for parents of children in Christian schools with the aim of fulfilling the Nurture Statement of Purpose in some way.
- Each article must be accompanied by a high-resolution photo and 2-3 sentence bio of the author.

General Guidelines

- It is important that potential contributors look to previous editions to become familiar with the style and tone of the journal. Submissions should be made electronically in Microsoft Word format. Submissions should be addressed to the editor and sent to: nurture@cen.edu.au
- The editorial committee reserve the right to edit, request edits and decline submissions that do not fit into the submission guidelines

Past student updates

We would love to hear how Christian education has influenced students who have journeyed through our schools.

Please include students name, age, school they attended, graduating year, favourite memory from school, what they are doing now, how did Christian education impact their life. These should generally not exceed 200 words and include a high-resolution photo of the student in their current occupation.

Once an article is published...

If the editorial committee decides to publish your submission you will be notified. Once published, the editor will send you a complimentary copy of the Journal edition (if you are not a subscriber) as well as a PDF version to your email address

Nicole Nyhouse

Editor of Nurture

On behalf of the Editorial Committee